ADVENTURES OF A WATCH.
A Lady's Time-Piece Which Is Continually Being Lost and Found.

Some years ago a handsome watch for woman's wear traveled from Switzerland to a lady in America, who, when in a show window it attracted attention as a proper gift to bestow upon a friend.
It was purchased, put in his pretty case with the chateau attached, and the whole later lost before the purchaser arrived home. Three days later it was advertised as found and was again in the possession of its purchaser. It was bestowed upon the friend. Before many days, after the lady had returned from a visit to Europe, it was found to have been dropped from its chain.
No research could find it.
Three weeks later it was carried into a jeweler's for sale, recognized by the owner of the farm, and recovered.

THE CLIMAX.

FRENCH TIPTON, - EDITOR.

PUBLISHED EVERY WEDNESDAY BY

The Climax Printing Co.

Wm. G. WHITE, CHAS. S. POWELL,

PRICE PER YEAR, $1.50.

WEDNESDAY, OCT. 9, 1889.

The Titan stakes, worth $14,000, were won by Morris's colt, Morristown, at Jerome Park, Saturday.

Montana went Democratic, but North and South Dakota and Washington went Republican in Tuesday's election.

Rev. Father Boyle, a Catholic Priest, has been found guilty at Raleigh, N. C., of criminal assault on Miss Whitaker, and sentenced to be hanged.

Judge Wm. E. Walker, a native of Madison, has been nominated for re-election to office of County Judge of Garrard county.

Fred Douglas was sent from Washington to Hayti on the Kearsarge at great expense to the Government, when he could have gone by regular steamer for $70. You see where your money goes under Republican administration.

AN EDITOR DEAD.

Wm. J. Lyle, one of the editors of the Lexington "Stock Farm," died at Danville, on last Thursday of pneumonia, after an illness of six weeks. Mr. Lyle was a farmer and stock breeder, and a prosperous man. His paper is one of the best stock journals in this country.

PARIS IS TO HAVE A HANGING.

The Court of Appeals has affirmed the decision of the Bourbon Circuit Court, sentencing to death Pat Hunt for the killing of James Alme. It will be recalled that Alme testified in the case against Hunt's wife and that she was sent to the penitentiary for killing a man. Bourbon has an occasional homicide, and the hanging of Hunt will cause the blood-thirsty element to think twice before it shoots once.

THE BARLON COURT.

The soldiers have returned from Harlan county. What was accomplished? Court was held with a docket full of criminal cases, and only two men were convicted—one for one year in the penitentiary, and one for life. One soldier was killed by accident—Mac Feat of Harrodsburg—and the State is out thousands of dollars. This thing of sending soldiers to hold court won't do. Better send Sheriff Hogg of Rowan county, next time.

PARTY POLICY FORESHADOWED.

Representative McCreary says that if the Republicans with their advantage are fair, the Democrats will meet them half way. The Minority's rights.

(Washington Post Oct. 1.)

Representative James B. McCreary, of Kentucky, is at the National Hotel. "I'm giving opinions," said he last night, "remember that I am speaking only for myself. If the Republicans attempt to Congress to commit arbitrary, unjust, and oppressive acts, the Democrats should fight them to the uttermost and oppose every parliamentary obstacle to their attempts. They are liberal and just we will meet them half way. If they are not, our opposition should extend so far as to prevent the consideration of appropriation bill and other important legislation rather than submit and allow the majority to ride rough-shod over us. Then let the struggle and responsibility rest on their shoulders."

"What would be considered the first overt act of hostility and oppression?"

"An attempt to revise the rules of the last House, and impose on the minority an arbitrary and tyrannical code. It is customary for a member of the majority to move that the rules of the preceding House be adopted unconditionally ordered by the House. I have looked the matter up for sixteen years and find that the precedent has not been broken. As soon as possible I will trace the precedent back to its beginning. If the majority fails to present this resolution and proceeds under general parliamentary rules, or if the rules of the preceding House is fixed date, it will be proof that they intend to revise the rules. I do not object to certain revisions, but I do object to any revision which will give the Republican majority power to oppress the Democratic minority. The minority has rights, and I repeat, if the majority attempts to usurp Democratic who were fairly and legally elected we will fight them with every parliamentary weapon."

"Do you anticipate a vigorous policy by the majority?"

"If the Republicans are sagacious they will not attempt it. At best they can only have three or four, and will be unable to accomplish anything without Democratic aid. I hope they will be wise enough to adopt a moderate course."

"Will Speaker Carlisle be the minority candidate for Speaker?"

"I judge he will. He deserves it. I have known him intimately for years, and say confidently that a fairer, more judicial speaker than John Carlisle never occupied the speaker's chair. The Republican candidacy seems to be between Reed and McKinley, but the fight may bring Burrows or Cannon to the front. In close fights it is difficult to predict who will win."

"What do you think the best policy for the Democrats to pursue as regards party management in Congress?"

"The caucus plan has the most merit. It allows a full and free discussion of measures, and is far better than management by a committee. That plan was tried in the Fifteenth Congress, but was a failure. I saw it tried twice in the Kentucky Legislature; with like result. It doesn't work well. The caucus affords the most representative system of management. I think that Mr. Carlisle will be elected Chairman of the caucus to succeed the late Representative Cox."

"What legislation will be most obnoxious to the Democrats?"

"The Democrats or Chamber Federal election laws. I have examined the carefully, and know that they are designed to reduce the peaceful relations which now exist in the South. Except in Congressional elections we still hold to the vicious system of voting in Kentucky. A man walks up to the polls, is identified, and declared his preference. He names his candidates, or else says, 'I vote the Republican ticket,' or 'I vote the Democratic ticket,' and the Democratic and Republican judges of elections record his ballot. It works admirably in Kentucky, and cultivates a spirit of independence and equality. We do not want that system disturbed."

"How is politics in Kentucky?"

"The Democrats carried the State at the last election by over 30,000, and won a substantial victory, though the Republicans had been claiming the State. Kentucky was the first State to go Democratic after the war, and the first State to send a solid Democratic delegation to Congress. The Democrats are united, sanguine, and solid for tariff reform. They are also associated with Mr. Cleveland's administration."

I am now enjoying excellent health, and there is not a blemish of any kind on my body. MICHAEL MCNAUL.

Mr. T. B. Ayres is announced in today's CLIMAX as a candidate for Constable in Richmond precinct. He has served a few months in that office, and now asks for re-nomination. He is a good officer and we doubt it a better one can be found at this primary election. Remember him at the polls Saturday.

English Sparrows.

Several persons in Richmond have recently acted upon the suggestion of General C. M. Clay, and experiments have been made with the pestiferous little English Sparrows as articles of food. They find the flavor good and the meat tender, but the cooks complain that they are harder to pick than a nut.

Lead at Cynthia.

Dr. Smith is a stockholder in the Waco Mining Company. The Cynthia Courier says: "Forty thousand dollars in hard cash is the offer of Eastern parties for the Hinton lead mine, now being operated and investigated by Dr. T. B. Smith. Work on excavating and boring was begun Thursday, a contract having been made to dig twenty feet. The above offer was made simply on the appearance of mine in general, and the belief that it possesses an enormous vein of ore."

Improve Third Street.

As the new depot has been located on Third street, that thoroughfare will be much in use. It is narrow and crooked. The council should proceed at once while the weather is good, to straighten and widen it. The meted portion, beyond Moberley Avenue, is not more than nine feet wide.

The Trío.

Cooke, Bennett & Urmston announce in to-day's CLIMAX their fall purchases of stately dress goods and other delightful articles for the ladies, and their imported and domestic goods for the Merchant Tailoring department. Peruse their advertisement and you, who contemplate making purchases, will find things applicable to your wants.

Wheat Burned.

On Tuesday of last week, a steam threshing was conveyed into the field of Col. D. W. Tribble, on the Moran place, near Silver Creek, where fifty acres of good wheat were stacked. The wheat took fire and was totally destroyed. The stacks were supposed to contain at least 120 bushels, worth probably $900. This is a serious loss to somebody.

Bought a Farm.

Mr. W. Tandy Chenault, of Union precent, this country, bought of Drs. Frazee and Martin, at a recent sale in Jessamine county, the Martin farm of 212 acres on the Tates Creek and Lexington turnpike, three miles beyond Spears' store, at $9,000. He will sell out here and remove thither at an early day. Those people over there will get a good neighbor.

A Former Resident.

M. J. Williams, Esq., of Glencoe, Galatin county, who was visiting his son, Rev. J. F. Williams, pastor of the Baptist church, this place, went home yesterday. Mr. Williams was born at Waco, this country, nearly eighty years ago, but his appearance does not indicate such an advanced age. His father built the Emory brick house just this side of Waco, about the year 1815. It is therefore one of the oldest houses in this country. The miners were principally colored.

The British Man-of-war was ordered to remain at Navassa until the U. S. vessel arrives. The rioters will then be arrested and taken to Baltimore to stand trial in the United States Court. It is safe to say that there will be a large number of hangings. The small boats are under the guns of the British Man-of-war, and will remain so.

We cannot imagine any cause for so rash an act. It could have been their purpose to loot the island, capture the schooner and escape to Hayti, but if so their plan have failed.

At the present no progress can be made in bringing home the remains of George W. Tipton. Monthis may elapse before he can be accomplished. In announcing his death, we did not say that he was a brother of the editor of THE CLIMAX, and many were led to believe that it was some other man.

Justice Bond of the U. S. Court at Baltimore has certified to President Harrison that the stock of goods belonging to W. White, McKee's old stand, corner Main and First streets. The price was $2,750. Messrs. D. M. Chenault & Co. were the purchasers. Immediate possession was given, and the house was at once opened for business. New goods will be added, and a first-class clothing and general furnishing goods house will be run.

The above offer was made simply on the appearance of mine in general, and the belief that it possesses an enormous vein of ore."

As the new depot has been located on Third street, that thoroughfare will be much in use. It is narrow and crooked. The council should proceed at once while the weather is good, to straighten and widen it. The meted portion, beyond Moberley Avenue, is not more than nine feet wide.
